About Us

OOur company started to serve with heavy vehicle hydraulic system repair in 2007. In addition to this ongoing service, it has started to manufacture hydraulic cabin lifting systems with the experience gained here. The double cabin lifting system, which is completely our own design, is protected by patent and supported by Tübitak. The product is put into service with a guarantee after passing the necessary tests at the end of the manufacturing process.Our company bases its production standards on the latest technology and the experience of its employees. In addition to the product quality we have achieved, necessary training is provided to our carefully selected employees through the human resources department. As the tests performed; Maximum material stresses, system frequency values, fatigue analysis of the system are performed.
