About Us

Helvacızade, a company with roots dating back to 1888, has been operating in the food industry for many years, primarily producing halva. The company takes its name from the family surname. In the 1950s, Helvacızade expanded its activities to include retail product distribution and wholesale food sector operations. Following the principle of reinvesting its earnings, Helvacızade established an oil factory on a 24,000 m² open and 6,000 m² enclosed area, which was founded in November 1989 and completed on October 25, 1991. The oil factory began production with an annual capacity of 20,000 tons.
