About Us

Niksan Defense company entered the sector as a modest, small business in the 1970s. The company produced many types of hunting products, mainly hunting rifles, blank pistols and fishing products. In the early 2000s, it supplied parts to almost all companies in our sector with the plastic injection machines and molds it produced itself. Niksan Defense company, which closely follows the changing and developing technology, is taking firm steps towards growth and factorization by adopting an innovative and devoted business model and investing especially in the R&D department.
