

Hakkımızda

Since 1975, we have been living the process of contributing to urban aesthetics, starting from an ordinary light bulb hanging on the ceiling, together with the developing technology. Today, light, freed from being trapped inside any object, has become an architectural element that directs the space, increases the quality of life, and helps to provide safety and security easily. Being aware of the power and necessity of light, we combine our experience from 1975 with today's needs at SIRRAC. From design to production; We prioritize customer satisfaction with our aesthetic, functional, environmentally friendly, efficient, safe, comfortable and economical products.
